ANNOTATION

In this article, large-scale reforms carried out in our country over the years of independence are aimed at strengthening national statehood and sovereignty, ensuring security and law and order, inviolability of the borders of our country, legality in society, human rights and freedoms, an environment of interethnic harmony and religious tolerance. It was an important basis for our people, the necessary conditions for the realization of the creative potential of our citizens are being discussed.

During the years of independence, the idea of national independence served the national revival of our people. This is suitable for our days in the ideological struggle. He united our people, explained the nature of destructive ideas. Since 2017, Uzbekistan has entered a new stage of its development - a national upsurge. There is an Action Strategy for the Development of Uzbekistan, based on our Constitution and meeting the fundamental interests of our people. The high achievements achieved in recent years clearly testify to the results of reforms aimed at making our people happy.

The main goal of all the reforms carried out in our country under the leadership of the President of the Republic of Uzbekistan Shavkat Mirziyoyev is aimed at dramatically raising the standard of living of our people and taking a worthy place among developed countries in this respect. In this regard, in the Address of the President of the Republic of Uzbekistan to the Oliy Majlis of the Republic of Uzbekistan dated January 24, 2020, it was emphasized that we are now entering a completely new stage of our national development, and it is necessary to develop the national idea. As you know, on April 8, 2019, a Presidential Decree was adopted on measures to develop a concept for the development of a national idea at a new stage in the development of Uzbekistan. What is the need for this document? In developed countries, the national idea combines the goals of the state with the goals of the people. There are many examples of how he formed the belief "one region - one nation", united the people of the countries and mobilized them to achieve a common goal. In most of them we see that the national idea is being introduced in connection with national values.

For example, the Japanese national idea developed on the basis of the values "History - Shintoism - Confucianism - the will of the samurai." People were given confidence and support. The education system and the idea of the school were reformed. As a result of the hard work of an organized nation, the world has witnessed the "miracle of Japan." In China, they turned to the national soil - the teachings of Confucius. Confucius used his heritage not as a religious doctrine, but as a moral (behavioral) basis. The upbringing of youth was organized on the basis of the idea of "service and loyalty to the Motherland". The youth were taught to balance personal and national interests.

It is believed that in the United States there is no state ideology. But scholars who have studied American spirituality say it's hard to find an ideological country like the United States. The American Dream serves as an ideology in the US. It is understood as the sum of the highest values of the American state, the spiritual mother of the nation. The core concepts of the "American Dream" are personal freedom, free enterprise, democracy, and work to achieve success. Americans believe that without ideology there will be no system in public administration, and without a system there can be no effective politics. Therefore, one of the American statesmen W. Saphire said: "If the American system is a skeleton, then the American dream is its heart." In South Korea, the national idea was built on the national identity of the people and the education of youth. At school, through customs and moral ideals, the national idea was instilled in the minds of young people. In preparing young people for life, special attention was paid to family and preschool education. Even now, in Korean families, fifty-six percent of the entire budget is spent on a child's education and human capital.

In our country, real demands are made on the national idea, arising from the requirements of a new era, a new stage in the history of our people. Previously, there were difficulties in understanding and explaining the national idea. For example, people's ears heard the national idea of the unity of the state and the people. But our eyes could see iron fences in front of administrations, ministries and departments. There was a wrong rule that the people should serve the state organs. Citizens could not freely enter the government and express their discontent. Because in fact there was an iron fence separating the state from the people. The bars have been cut. But this fence still stands in the minds of some of our officials. It is difficult to break the iron bars of thinking. The national idea is updated based on the requirements of such a situation.

Previously, the national idea was understood as a social and humanitarian, spiritual and educational problem. Today, its economic and political basis is the Action Strategy for the Development of Uzbekistan. Tactics - each year has a main program, funds and performers. So, in the new era, the national idea will not be a humanitarian issue. Because the result-oriented economic system works. The democratic environment plays a decisive role in realizing the national ideal. Democracy is a condition of correctness, truth, justice, legality. It serves to protect the right from the unjust, the oppressed from the tyrant, and the weak from the oppressor. He talks about it. Includes public control. Because the national idea is not a category of the population, it says that everyone should live well and be satisfied with life. As long as justice and legality are violated in the country, both democracy and the national idea will become empty slogans. The people will be dissatisfied. If people are dissatisfied, then the national idea does not fulfill its purpose.

Objectively speaking, the reforms carried out by President Shavkat Mirziyoyev created the conditions for the national idea to become the strength of our people. Now we are talking about turning the national idea into the intention and action of every Uzbek. A good thought leads to good, a bad thought leads to evil. It is necessary to pay special attention to filling the information space with positive, kind, optimistic content and topics so that negative content does not take over. After all, we, adults, and our children every day are influenced by good and bad thoughts. We argue, say, swear with each other on a social network. But what we don't realize is that it's a battle of ideas that starts with negative thoughts.

The large-scale reforms carried out in our country over the years of independence are an important basis for strengthening national statehood and sovereignty, security and law and order, the inviolability of the borders of our country, the rule of law in society, human rights and freedoms, an environment of interethnic harmony and religious tolerance. The necessary conditions have been created and are being created for worthy living of our people, realization of the creative potential of our citizens.

The complete rejection of the administrative-command system of management in the economy, the phased implementation of market reforms and a carefully thought-out monetary policy ensured macroeconomic stability, high rates of economic growth, inflation at the level of forecast indicators, and ensured its preservation. and served to create broad opportunities and favorable conditions for the development of small businesses and private entrepreneurship, farming.

At the same time, a deep analysis of the development path of our country, today's world market conditions have changed dramatically, and competition in the context of globalization is intensifying and requires implementation.

According to the decree of the President Shavkat Mirziyoyev dated December 28, 2016 "On measures to radically improve the system of working with appeals from individuals and legal entities", Public Receptions have been established. Its employees are considered employees of the Office of the President of the Republic of Uzbekistan. In December 2017, the President of the Republic of Uzbekistan Shavkat Mirziyoyev, in his speech at a ceremony dedicated to the 25th anniversary of the adoption of the Constitution of the Republic of Uzbekistan, put forward the idea of creating a separate structure under the President - the Agency for Operational Public Services based on public receptions.

In 2017, this mechanism, which has been tested and continuously improved throughout the year, was presented to the world community as one of our successes on the path of true democracy. Shavkat Mirziyoyev at the 72nd session of the UN General Assembly set the global goal of strengthening the mechanisms for the implementation of people's power not in words, but in deeds, emphasizing that he had solved his current problems.

Every day in the life of our country and people there are new changes and updates. The new system of comprehensive development of our country, open communication with the people - the Institute of Folk Receptions, implemented on the initiative of President Shavkat Mirziyoyev, shows that there are even more tasks ahead than the work done in the past did. Indeed, the truth emerges in debates and public dialogues. After the creation of the People's receptions and virtual receptions of the President in the field, to be aware of the real life of the people, carefully study the long-term problems, requests and needs of the people, solve them even on the spot, determine the necessary measures and ensure social justice, an opportunity arose.

The Office of the President of the Republic of Uzbekistan for the protection of the rights of citizens, control and coordination of work with the appeals of individuals and legal entities organized mass receptions and face-to-face conversations with the population in all cities and regions of the republic. country, remote villages, quarters. In short, people have infiltrated. The pain that had accumulated in the hearts of people, the problems that could have already been solved, but because of tyranny, selfishness, censorship, were not solved for years, began to emerge. Most importantly, there is a convenient opportunity for people to express their problems, to talk face to face with the heads of large and small departments, to find solutions to their problems in a short time. Not only the problems, their requests and proposals were listened to, these proposals were collected and appropriate activities were developed. The strict requirements of the President that "Leaders must be servants of the people", "Our main goal is the approval of the people, if the people are satisfied with us, our work will be fruitful and fertile" have found their way into practice. Today, many innovations are being introduced as a result of this research.

When conducting an open dialogue with citizens, and analyzing the appeals received by the virtual lobby of the President and the People's lobby, it was found that, along with a number of problems, there are many problems awaiting solution in the provision of public services to the population. However, since 2003, in order to develop entrepreneurship in our country, special inspections have been organized at city and district administrations to register business entities on the principle of "one stop". Since 2016, Public Services Centers have been operating on their basis. But it became clear that these efforts were not enough to meet the current needs and demands of the population. As a result, for each document you have to apply to different offices, stand in line for hours, red tape and various troubles have not ended. Therefore, large-scale work has begun in our country to radically reform the national system for the provision of public services.

In order to further increase the effectiveness of the reforms initiated by the President of the country Shavkat Mirziyoyev, create conditions for the comprehensive and advanced development of the state and society, implement priority areas for the modernization of our country and liberalize all spheres of life, the February decree approved the Action Strategy for five priority areas of development of the Republic of Uzbekistan for 2017 -2021 years.

Shavkat Mirziyoyev proposed in an address to members of the Senate of the Oliy Majlis and the Legislative Chamber to introduce the procedure of collective electronic submission as an advanced mechanism of democracy, providing for the mandatory withdrawal from the bank in the law.

In this regard, the expediency of creating a special web page “My opinion” on the Internet was emphasized, so that the citizens of our country could express their opinion on important issues related to the life of the state and society. In 2018, a single local portal of collective appeals appeared in Uzbekistan. There, citizens can voice their opinions and initiatives on issues of state and public importance. The Internet portal "My Opinion" was created in our country in order to expand the opportunities of citizens to participate in managing the affairs of society and the state, to ensure the transparency of the activities of representative bodies of state power, its viability and effectiveness. adopted laws.
